britepaths
Formerly Our Daily Bread

Financial Mentoring Program

Britepaths offers personal, one-on-one financial guidance to working clients, usually by a referral from a social worker or case manager. Clients are matched with a mentor who will work with them toward the goal of a healthier financial outlook. Clients must be working at least 30 hours per week.

To be considered for this program, the candidate must commit to:

- Complete a phone application and interview in a timely manner.
- Track daily expenses for a minimum of one week with a Britepaths volunteer through JUMP: a budget planning program.
- Attend either a free Thrifty Thursday Class or a free Financial Counseling Clinic, or provide documentation from another organization of financial education completion.
- Meet in person with a financial mentor two times each month for a period no less than six months.
- Follow up with the program manager in a timely fashion, usually by phone or email.

"[Britepaths] has turned my life around. I used to stress every month about my bills, which one to pay, which one will be late. Now, I can pay my bills on time (some ahead of time). My savings is small but it will grow. The best of all, my daughter doesn't just ask for something she needs; she asks me to add it to the budget. How sweet is that?" ---Pamela, Britepaths Mentored client

Are YOU ready to work with a financial mentor to make the changes you need in order to reach your financial goals?

If YES, contact Marcelle Miles, Program Manager, at mmiles@britepaths.org

To Learn More, visit our Financial Literacy page at: britepaths.org.